About the BC Arts Council: New Foundations

The BC Arts Council is an agency of the provincial government established by the Arts Council Act, for the purposes of:

- Providing support for the arts and culture in British Columbia;
- Providing persons and organizations with the opportunity to participate in the arts and culture in British Columbia; and
- Providing an open, accountable and neutrally administered process for managing funds for British Columbia arts and culture.

In July 2018, the BC Arts Council released New Foundations: Strategic Plan for the British Columbia Arts Council 2018-2022, which articulates the following vision:

“Artists and cultural organizations in British Columbia are well-supported, thriving, and able to reach their full potential under principles of equity, diversity, accessibility, and reconciliation. Arts and culture are seen as fundamental to developing vibrant and resilient communities, where the people of British Columbia are highly engaged in the province’s unique arts and culture sector recognized for its innovation and leadership in Canada and abroad.”

Strategic Directions

The new strategic plan lays out four new strategic directions for the BC Arts Council, intended to facilitate more equitable access to arts funding and informed by the current context facing the arts and culture sector in B.C.:

- Sustainability and Creative Development
- Equity, Diversity and Access
- Indigenous Arts and Culture
- Regional Arts and Community Arts

Values

The current year is one of transition, as Council’s funding priorities and programs begin to navigate from the previous strategic plan to the full implementation of its new strategic directions. Throughout this transition, Council is highlighting and strengthening some of its previous commitments, as expressed through values such as access, recognition, engagement and consultation, while signalling the new values that will guide all of Council’s decisions and activities, from program design to the peer review process, into the future:

- Artistic Development and Achievement
- Indigenous Engagement and Cultural Vitality
- Equity, Access and Diversity
- Collaboration and Partnerships
- Engagement and Participation
- Recognition and Promotion
- Fair and Transparent Governance

Throughout all of its work, the BC Arts Council is committed to upholding the principles outlined in the Calls to Action of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (the Declaration), as adopted by the Province of British Columbia.

It is the applicant's responsibility to ensure applications are complete and all application requirements are included. The BC Arts Council will not contact applicants to address errors in applications or missing application requirements, including support material, other than that required to determine eligibility. Eligible applications and any supporting material will be assessed as they have been submitted.

Applications must include:

- A signed, completed Project Assistance – Community Arts Festivals application form including a balanced budget using the budget form provided. Please provide notes to the budget, either in the form or on a separate page as needed, and indicate whether revenues are confirmed (c) or pending (p).

BC Arts Council Grant for last fiscal year	Minimum Required Documentation
Up to $10,000	Internally prepared Financial Statements signed by two board members
$10,001 - $25,000	Independently prepared "Notice to Reader" Financial Statements
$25,001 - $100,000	"Review Engagement" Financial Statements
Greater than $100,000	Audited Financial Statements

Funding Considerations

An essential element of any application is insightful, critical self-reflection. Applicants should provide an assessment of the challenges faced by their organization or project and the creative solutions under consideration. The applicant's reflection on both past achievement and proposed plans will be considered.

Throughout the application and assessment, applicants should:

- Consider and discuss how the festival project addresses their mandate, mission and values.
- Consider and discuss how the organization makes its annual selection of artists for the proposed festival. For example, are curatorial decisions made by a single individual or volunteer committee?
- Respond to BC Arts Council's four new strategic directions in discussing the proposed festival programming: Regional and Community Arts; Indigenous Arts & Culture; Equity, Diversity and Access; and Sustainability and Creative Development (see pg 2).

Considering Cultural Context

All applicants should consider the issues around cultural appropriation if using the cultural forms, aesthetics or iconography of cultural communities removed from their social, political and cultural roots. Cultural appropriation can also occur when there is insufficient credit given to the sources of artistic and cultural work. Cultural appropriation diminishes access and reduces the opportunity for artists from Indigenous and diverse cultural communities to tell their own stories.

If working with Indigenous peoples, communities, culture or intellectual property (including but not limited to stories, songs, dance, designs, art, traditional knowledge or other cultural expressions), applicants should consider the principles outlined in the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (the Declaration). The Declaration affirms that Indigenous peoples have the right to self-determination and the right to practice and revive their culture and traditions. As stated in Article 11 of the Declaration,

“This includes the right to maintain, protect and develop the past, present and future manifestations of their cultures, such as archaeological and historical sites, artefacts, designs, ceremonies, technologies and visual and performing arts and literature.”

Article 31 of the Declaration affirms the rights of Indigenous peoples to maintain, control, protect and develop their cultural heritage, traditional knowledge and cultural expressions and their manifestations and intellectual property. If you are working with traditional knowledge, you will need to explain how you have addressed cultural protocols and/or received permissions where required.

Application Deadline and Submission

The deadline for the Project Assistance – Community Arts Festivals is February 15, 2019.

Applications are accepted by mail and must be postmarked by Canada Post or a courier company no later than February 15, 2019. Applications may be hand delivered or delivered by courier to 800 Johnson Street, Victoria, BC, up to 4 p.m. on the deadline day.

Adjudication Process

Community Arts Festival Project Assistance is a subsidy based program and is NOT a peer-reviewed program. Awards to all eligible applicants are determined by Program Staff on a formula basis, taking into consideration the following:

- Total amount of proposed payments to professional BC and Canadian artists, technicians, Elders and Traditional Knowledge Keepers (fully itemized in budget).
- A balanced proposed Festival Budget including the funds requested of this program, and
- The financial viability of the organization and its demonstrated ability to realize the proposed activity.

The following process is used to assess every application:

- The British Columbia Arts Council receives applications and acknowledges receipt by email within 2 weeks of the deadline date.
- The Program Officer reviews applications for eligibility and prepares an analysis of the applicant's administration, financial management, and capacity, along with the feasibility of the project.
- Council informs each applicant of its decision in writing by end of March 2019.

Grant Amounts

Project assistance will not exceed 50% of the total eligible artist and technician fees, to a maximum of $5,000. Assistance through this program is possible only once per BC Arts Council fiscal year (April 1- March 31). Organizations may only submit one application to this program per deadline.

Notification of Awards
