

PROGRAM GUIDELINES 2020/21

PROJECT ASSISTANCE: TOURING INITIATIVES

About the BC Arts Council: New Foundations

The BC Arts Council is an agency of the provincial government established by the Arts Council Act, for the purposes of:

- Providing support for the arts and culture in British Columbia;
- Providing persons and organizations with the opportunity to participate in the arts and culture in British Columbia; and
- Providing an open, accountable and neutrally administered process for managing funds for British Columbia arts and culture.

In July 2018, the BC Arts Council released New Foundations: Strategic Plan for the British Columbia Arts Council 2018-2022, which articulates the following vision:

“Artists and cultural organizations in British Columbia are well-supported, thriving, and able to reach their full potential under principles of equity, diversity, accessibility, and reconciliation. Arts and culture are seen as fundamental to developing vibrant and resilient communities, where the people of British Columbia are highly engaged in the province’s unique arts and culture sector recognized for its innovation and leadership in Canada and abroad.”

Strategic Directions

The new strategic plan lays out four new strategic directions for the BC Arts Council, intended to facilitate more equitable access to arts funding and informed by the current context facing the arts and culture sector in B.C.:

- Sustainability and Creative Development
- Equity, Diversity and Access
- Indigenous Arts and Culture
- Regional Arts and Community Arts

Values

The BC Arts Council’s values guide all decisions and activities, from program design to the peer review process. We strive for constant improvement under these values in how we serve artists and cultural organizations throughout B.C.

- Artistic Development and Achievement
- Indigenous Engagement and Cultural Vitality
- Equity, Access and Diversity
- Collaboration and Partnerships
- Engagement and Participation
- Recognition and Promotion
- Fair and Transparent Governance

Program Impacts and Changes Due to COVID-19

The BC Arts Council recognizes the immense and unprecedented impact the COVID-19 pandemic is having, and will likely continue to have, on the B.C. arts and culture sector. While every effort will be made to minimize revisions after posting, program guidelines may need to be updated to align with the most current provincial and federal orders and directives and public health information.

In light of this evolving situation, please take note of the following general considerations:

- Ensure you are always working with the latest version of the program guidelines, as posted on the BC Arts Council website. The posting date is identified at the bottom of the page, and any changes to the guidelines made after the original posting are highlighted.
- A temporary blackout has been placed on new funding and applications for activities that involve travel and/or in-person gatherings between March 26 and September 30, 2020. This date could be adjusted if the current provincial and federal orders and directives in place are extended.
- Your application will be adjudicated to the best of the adjudication panel's ability based on the published program guidelines and the assumptions addressed within the proposal, recognizing that the responses to COVID-19 may continue to shift rapidly.
- If your application is successful, you may need to adjust your project to respond to further developments in the COVID-19 pandemic that were unknown at the time of application and/or adjudication. Please contact your program officer, who will work with you to find creative and flexible approaches to uphold the original intention of your funded project, including remote or virtual solutions.
- The most up-to-date information will always be posted on our dedicated COVID 19 FAQ page and individual program pages. Updates will also be announced on our Facebook, and Twitter accounts.

IMPORTANT CHANGES TO THIS PROGRAM:

2020-03-26 – The April 1, 2020 intake deadline is cancelled. The program intake remains open on a rolling basis. The next intake deadline is August 1, 2020.

Equity and Cultural Context

In New Foundations: 2018-2022, the BC Arts Council has made a commitment to principles of equity, diversity, accessibility and truth and reconciliation in all of its programs and processes. In its own operations and in the funding and support it provides for arts and culture in the province, the BC Arts Council administers its activities in accordance with the BC Human Rights Code and strives to foster cultural safety and safe and respectful workplaces for all artists, arts workers and cultural practitioners.

The BC Arts Council is committed to the standards and principles of the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (the Declaration) and the Calls to Action of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission. We support the Province of British Columbia in its commitment to fully adopt and implement both of these important documents.

The BC Arts Council acknowledges the cultural, geographic and regional diversity of the province, and recognizes the distinct and varied contexts of Indigenous, cultural and regional communities.

In consideration of these commitments, all applicants and assessors should contemplate a variety of factors around cultural context when submitting a proposal. Not all considerations will apply to all applications.

- Consider issues around cultural appropriation and ownership if using the cultural expressions, aesthetics or iconography of various communities removed from their social, political and cultural roots. Cultural appropriation can also occur when there is insufficient credit given to the sources of artistic and cultural work. Cultural appropriation diminishes access and reduces the opportunity for artists from Indigenous and diverse cultural communities to tell their own stories.
- If working with Indigenous peoples, communities, culture or intellectual property (including but not limited to stories, songs, dance, designs, art, traditional knowledge or other cultural expressions), consider the principles outlined in the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (the Declaration). The Declaration affirms that Indigenous peoples have the right to self-determination and the right to practice and revive their culture and traditions. As stated in Article 11 of the Declaration this “includes the right to maintain, protect and develop the past, present and future manifestations of their cultures, such as archaeological and historical sites, artefacts, designs, ceremonies, technologies and visual and performing arts and literature.”
- Consider the reciprocity of relationships with the various communities and cultural practices represented in your application, and whose voices and perspectives are being included.
- Consider how you have addressed cultural protocols and/or received permissions where required, including appropriate community consent, support, advice and/or collaboration.

Assessment Criteria

The four areas of assessment are set out below, along with their relative weighting.

Throughout the application and assessment, applicants and the Jury should consider and discuss how the project fulfills the applicant’s artistic objectives in each area of assessment

All applicants should:

- Discuss how the project addresses the applicant's mandate, mission and values in each area of assessment.
- Discuss how the project fulfills the applicant's artistic objectives in each area of assessment.

The Jury will consider a number of possible criteria under each area of assessment; not all will apply to every applicant but rather, they are aspects that will be considered and should be addressed in the application if relevant to the applicant and its work. Additionally, some criteria may have implications in more than one area of assessment.

Applications are judged against these criteria alongside a number of equally eligible applications.

In each area of assessment, the Jury considers the applicant's reflection on both past achievement and proposed plans. Applicants are encouraged to critically assess the challenges faced and the creative solutions under consideration.

- Commitment to the development of B.C. artists and cultural practitioners.
- Consideration of cultural context in the artistic activity.

Merit-based, independent assessment is the primary method of evaluation. All applications are assessed by peer review juries.
