How Applications Will Be Assessed

In Extending Foundations: Action Plan for 2022-2024 the BC Arts Council commits to placing reconciliation, equity, diversity, inclusion and access at the centre of its activities, with the intention to rebalance historic funding distribution and modernize peer assessment. Assessment criteria are designed to speak to the diversity of ways organizations across the province can be achieving and contributing. The areas of assessment are described below along with their relative weight. While your application should address how your activities fulfil each area of assessment, you should expect to be stronger in some areas than in others.

RECONCILIATION, EQUITY, DIVERSITY, INCLUSION AND ACCESS (20%)

The assessment panel will evaluate the applicant's alignment with the Extending Foundations theme of Reconciliation, Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Access by considering:

- The relevance of the applicant within equity-deserving communities;
- The applicant's contribution to and established presence in communities located outside major urban centres, as applicable;
- The level at which the applicant shows commitment to advancing opportunities for and service to equity-deserving and under-represented communities;
- The applicant's engagement with reconciliation, as applicable;
- The significance of steps the applicant has taken to pursue equity, diversity, inclusion, and access depending on its region, community served, size, and mandate; and
- The strength of the applicant's policies or practices in upholding equity in its human resources, governance, and operational practices.

ARTISTIC AND CULTURAL CONTRIBUTION, ENGAGEMENT AND IMPACT (40%)

The assessment panel will evaluate the applicant's overall artistic and cultural contribution, potential, engagement, and impact by considering:

- The relevance of the applicant to the communities it serves, as demonstrated through programming, audience development, outreach, editorial, or curatorial choices;
- How well the applicant can identify the communities it serves;
- The contribution to the development of the art form(s), cultural communities, and cultural practices in B.C.;
- The level of artistry, risk, originality and impact achieved in programming, in accordance with the applicant's purpose;

- The impact on and contribution to the development of B.C. artists, cultural practitioners, and artistic communities;
- The integrity of the creative and artistic processes; including research, collaborative processes, the ethical treatment of contributors, and source/physical materials;
- The level of accessibility and engagement, including but not limited to physical spaces, cultural safety, affordability, and support for diverse participants or those who experience barriers or disability; and
- The effectiveness of practices that eliminate cultural appropriation and support meaningful representation, using appropriate protocols and practices.

ORGANIZATIONAL CAPACITY AND GOVERNANCE (40%)

The assessment panel will evaluate the anticipated potential impact of funding through this program on the development, sustainability and resilience of the applicant by considering:

- The relevance of the applicant's governance, leadership and organizational structures to the organization's purpose, community, lifecycle and size;
- The achievability of the proposed programs as determined by sound budgets, planning, resource allocation, and the applicant's overall financial health;
- The role of leadership, management, or board in good governance and fostering inclusion and a healthy, sustainable workplace;
- Current human resources practices, in relation to remuneration, professional development, equitable employment, cultural competency, cultural safety, accessibility, and a safe and respectful workplace;
- Potential for increasing stability, building capacity, or enhancing the applicant's ability to succeed; and
- The ability to negotiate change, adapt to new circumstances, and tolerate risk.

Assessment Process

Merit-based, independent peer assessment is the primary method of evaluation for all applications to this program. Assessment panels are comprised of individuals with broad professional knowledge, experience, geographical representation, and diverse aesthetic, institutional, and cultural viewpoints, including those from Indigenous perspectives.

The following process is used to evaluate applications:

- Staff receives online applications and reviews each one for eligibility;
- An equity advisory structure completes a review;
- The assessment panel then evaluates the applications using the assessment criteria outlined above and recommends the level of funding and conditions on payment of awards;
- Funding allocations are approved; and
- Staff informs each applicant of the final decision in writing.

Applicants are encouraged to contact staff for feedback after results have been released.

Notification of Awards

Decisions will be made within sixteen weeks of the application deadline. Notification will be sent via the online system to the contact linked to the online application, and to the organizational and governance leadership contacts provided in the organizational profile (as applicable). Results cannot be requested in advance.

Ensure the email address bc.artscouncil.noreply@gov.bc.ca is on your safe sender list and check your spam folders.
