Acknowledgement

The BC Arts Council acknowledges it carries out its work on the land of Indigenous nations throughout British Columbia. We are grateful for the continuing relationships with Indigenous people that develop through our work together. We acknowledge and raise our hands to the ləkʷəŋən (Lkwungen) people, known today as the Songhees and Esquimalt Nations, on whose ancestral lands we operate our main offices.

How Applications Will Be Assessed

In Extending Foundations: Action Plan for 2022-2024 the BC Arts Council commits to placing reconciliation, equity, diversity, inclusion and access at the centre of its activities, with the intention to rebalance historic funding distribution and modernize peer assessment. Assessment criteria are designed to speak to the diversity of ways organizations across the province can be achieving and contributing. The areas of assessment are described below along with their relative weight. While your submission should address how your activities fulfil each area of assessment, you should expect to be stronger in some areas than in others.

RECONCILIATION, EQUITY, DIVERSITY, INCLUSION AND ACCESS (30%)

The assessment panel will evaluate the organization's alignment with the priorities of Extending Foundations by considering:

- The relevance of the organization within equity-deserving communities;
- The organization's contribution to and established presence in communities located outside major urban centres, as applicable;
- The level at which the organization shows commitment to advancing opportunities for and service to equity-deserving and under-represented communities;
- The organizations engagement with reconciliation, as applicable;
- The significance of steps the organization has taken to pursue equity, diversity, inclusion, and access depending on its region, community served, size, and mandate; and
- The strength of the organization's policies in upholding equity in its human resources, governance, and operational practices.

ARTISTIC AND CULTURAL CONTRIBUTION, ENGAGEMENT AND IMPACT (40%)

The assessment panel will evaluate the organization's overall artistic and cultural contribution, engagement, and impact by considering:

- The relevance of the organization to the communities it serves, as demonstrated through programming, audience development, outreach, editorial, or curatorial choices;
- How well the organization can identify the communities it serves;
- The contribution to the development of the art form(s) and cultural practices in B.C.;
- The level of artistry, risk, originality and production values achieved in programming, in accordance with the organization's purpose;
- The impact on and contribution to the development of B.C. artists, cultural practitioners, and artistic communities;

FOR REFERENCE ONLY

- The integrity of the creative and artistic processes; including research, collaborative processes, the ethical treatment of contributors, and source/physical materials;
- The level of accessibility and engagement, including but not limited to physical spaces, cultural safety, affordability, and support for diverse participants or those who experience barriers or disability; and
- The effectiveness of practices that eliminate cultural appropriation and support meaningful representation, using appropriate protocols and practices.

ORGANIZATIONAL CAPACITY AND GOVERNANCE (30%)

The assessment panel will evaluate the sustainability and resilience of the organization by considering:

- The relevance of the organization's governance, leadership and organizational structures to the organization's purpose, community, lifecycle and size;
- The achievability of the proposed programs as determined by sound budgets, planning, resource allocation, and the organization's overall financial health;
- The role of leadership, management, and the board in good governance and fostering inclusion and a healthy, sustainable workplace;
- The rigour of human resources practices, in relation to providing fair remuneration, professional development, equitable employment, cultural competency, cultural safety, and a safe and respectful workplace; and
- Organizational ability to negotiate change, adapt to new circumstances, and tolerate risk.

Assessment Process

Merit-based, independent peer assessment is the primary method of evaluation for all applications to this program. Assessment panels are comprised of individuals with broad professional knowledge, experience, geographical representation, and diverse aesthetic, institutional, and cultural viewpoints, including those from Indigenous perspectives.

The following process is used to evaluate applications:

- Staff receives online applications and reviews each one for eligibility;
- A review is then completed through an equity advisory structure;
- The assessment panel then evaluates the applications using the assessment criteria outlined above and recommends the level of funding and conditions on payment of awards;
- Funding allocations are approved; and
- Staff informs each applicant of the final decision in writing.

Applicants are encouraged to contact staff for feedback after results have been released.

Notification of Awards

Decisions will be made within sixteen weeks of the application deadline. Notification will be sent via the online system to the contact linked to the online application, and to the organizational and governance leadership contacts provided in the organizational profile (as applicable). Results cannot be requested in advance.
