CADAC

The BC Arts Council collects financial and statistical information through a national online database called CADAC (Canadian Arts Data/Données sur les arts au Canada). This system enables arts organizations to submit their financial and statistical information in the same format when applying for operating funding from public funders who are members of CADAC.

You must submit your financial and statistical information for the years outlined in the application or report form using the CADAC Financial Form for Arts Organizations and the Statistical Form for Arts Organizations. You must also submit your organization's financial statements to CADAC. The Last Year Actuals you entered in CADAC must be reconciled against your financial statements and locked by CADAC staff prior to adjudication.

Accurate assessment of your organization's request to the BC Arts Council depends upon you providing this financial and statistical information to CADAC in sufficient time for reconciliation and validation.

How Applications Will Be Assessed

In Extending Foundations: Action Plan for 2022-2024 the BC Arts Council commits to placing reconciliation, equity, diversity, inclusion and access at the centre of its activities, with the intention to rebalance historic funding distribution and modernize peer assessment. Assessment criteria are designed to speak to the diversity of ways organizations across the province can be achieving and contributing. The areas of assessment are described below along with their relative weight. While your submission should address how your activities fulfil each area of assessment, you should expect to be stronger in some areas than in others.

Assessment Process

Merit-based, independent peer assessment is the primary method of evaluation for all applications to this program. Assessment panels are comprised of individuals with broad professional knowledge, experience, geographical representation, and diverse aesthetic, institutional, and cultural viewpoints, including those from Indigenous perspectives.

The following process is used to evaluate applications:

- Staff receives online applications and reviews each one for eligibility;
- A review is then completed through an equity advisory structure;
- The assessment panel then evaluates the applications using the assessment criteria outlined above and recommends the level of funding and conditions on payment of awards;
- Funding allocations are approved; and
- Staff informs each applicant of the final decision in writing.

Applicants are encouraged to contact staff for feedback after results have been released.
